Seeking a position as a producer where I can use my experience in camera operation, lighting, and sound recording to create engaging content for clients. I am experienced in leveraging my creative and technical skills to produce high-quality videos. I am skilled at developing unique concepts and stories for video projects that will appeal to multiple audiences. I am a quick and flexible learner. I jump at every opportunity to do video work, doing some freelance work and in studio productions. I've also branched out and have begun making motion graphics. I am a leader in and out of work, and have managed teams of people all throughout my college experience and as a video producer.

Work Experience

Marketing Videographer

Franciscan University of Steubenville - Steubenville, OH

August 2024 to Present

As Marketing Videographer at Franciscan University of Steubenville, I create compelling video content that promotes the University's brand and engages key audiences. I collaborate with the marketing team to develop and execute video projects from concept to completion, covering a wide range of initiatives, from student recruitment to donor relations. My responsibilities include on-site and in-studio production, motion graphics development, and post-production editing to deliver high-quality video content that aligns with the University's mission and brand identity.

Video Producer

Franciscan University of Steubenville - Steubenville, OH

August 2022 to August 2024

As Video Producer, I was in charge of producing EWTN's Franciscan University Presents, responsible for assembling crew and making sure production goes smoothly. Working with Franciscan University Presents also entailed constructing questions and conducting interviews for the "Other Voices" segment of the show. I oversaw the student video team that films most of the talks and events on campus. That involved training the team, assembling the Sony PXW-Z280 field kit, and reviewing their edits on Avid Media Composer before publishing the final product. I worked collaboratively across multiple departments filming independent videos for various University projects. I also created motion graphics and other visual assets with Adobe Photoshop and After Effects for the published videos that are in line with the FUS Brand.
